ALEXANDER CAMPBELL AND ANNIE ELIZABETH McNAUGHTON

Alexander Campbell, the oldest son of Thomas Campbell and Elizabeth Davis, was born May 12, 1847, in Kilburnie, Ayrshire, Scotland. He came to Utah with his parents in 1855. They made their first home in Cedar City.

The family had moved into the valley of the Sevier River when the Indian wars broke out. Alexander started as a young boy to ride as a messenger between the settlements. Later he was a scout and interpreter and given many grave responsibilities in the Black Hawk War.

In 1865 the Campbells moved to Heber, where they all worked at establishing a home. Alexander went into Colorado and Mexico to do mining work. He was very successful in his chosen field.

On a trip to Heber to visit with his people he met his sweetheart, Annie Elizabeth Mc-

Naughton. She was the daughter of James McNaughton and Elizabeth Barnes and was born in Heber, Utah.

They were married January 26, 1880, and made their home in Rico, Colorado. Alexander died in Telluride, Colorado, while he was on a mining project December 13, 1893. He was buried in Heber.

Annie Campbell later made her home in Park City, where she cared for her brother who were working there. She spent the last ten years of her life in Salt Lake City where her family made their homes. She died August 24, 1938.

NECESSARY EXPLANATIONS

JAMES CAMPBELL AND DORCUS MARION (MAUDE) WITT

James Campbell, the youngest son of Thomas Campbell and Elizabeth Davis, was born in Moroni, Utah, August 13, 1864. The following summer, his family moved to Heber and established their permanent home.

James learned at an early age that each member of the family must carry his share of the load. His responsibility was to help herd the cows and later help care for the horses.

When he was 12 years old, he and his brother Bill, who was then 16 years old, took their first wagon load of shingles to the market in Salt Lake City. They drove down through Provo Canyon, camping on the way.

He was married to Dorcus Marion (Maude) Witt November 26, 1896. She was the daughter of John Wesley Witt and Lovina Biglow. She was born June 4, 1875, in Heber, Utah.

Their first home was in Center, Wasatch County. James had built a two-room house on some land he owned there. Later, they moved to Park City and James worked in the Ontario mine for three years. They then bought their home in Heber, where they spent the rest of their lives.

James Campbell loved horses and worked at the livery stable for many years. He always said a horse would do what you wanted him to do if you were kind to it. He could never see a horse abused.

When the survey was made for roads in what was then the Indian Reservation, James Campbell was in charge of the horses needed for the engineer, Richard R. Lyman. At this time he made friends with the Indians who were opposed to these inroads on their territory and helped them to understand.

He was a great reader and a good penman. His family looked forward to their evenings when their father would read to them. Storytelling was an art in which he excelled.

People who knew James Campbell will remember his beautiful garden with its long straight rows of vegetables. He and his wife worked together in their flower garden. No modern hobby worker ever excels the flowers produced by this couple.

James Campbell loved his neighbors and their children, and they loved him and often sought his advice.

"Aunt Maud," as she was called by her friends and relatives, was known for her nursing ability. She assisted at the birth of many babies and was the bedside attendant of many who were ill. She was always well-groomed, and her beautiful gray hair was always admired.

She died in Heber March 14, 1955.

Their children: Glen P. (married Rachel Millicent Lichfield), Thomas Milton (married Blanch Allison; they were divorced and he married LaRue York), Lovina (married Louis Dewey Johnson), Grant (died at the age of 12), and Elizabeth (married Alvie Sweat).

JAMES LYON LINDSAY

James Lyon Lindsay was born September 21, 1873, at Heber, Utah, to William and Mary Mair Lindsay. His father took up a homestead about three miles east of Heber and the family moved there in 1877.

Here, Jim (or Jimmy, as he was sometimes called) spent his boyhood days, helping his father with the farm work. He attended school and Church in Heber. He attended Wasatch Stake Academy in Heber when it was established in 1889. In 1901 he moved his family to Provo, Utah, where he took a missionary course at the Brigham Young Academy.

Jim began herding sheep when he was 14 years old and a few years later was able to acquire a herd of his own. This was his vocation throughout his life.

Elizabeth Jones was born September 3, 1877, to Richard and Agnes Campbell Jones, at Heber, Utah. The two-room house in which she was born was located across the street, south of what is now the Wasatch High School. She went to school at Sleepy Hollow, two blocks west from where she lived.

In 1899 the Jones family moved to Center to live on a farm. Lizzie attended school and Church in this community. She was active in sports.

At times she used to work for other people, and when she was 10 years old she received 50 cents a week, and with her first savings she bought a pair of shoes for $1.50.

She was trained to think of her home responsibilities. When she was away from home a little while in the afternoon she knew it was her duty to go home and help with the evening chores.

James Lyon Lindsay and Elizabeth Jones were married in the Salt Lake Temple on July 31, 1895. They made their home at Center and both took an active part in the Church and community.

While living here, six of their 10 children were born, namely: Vera (Mrs. Walter J. Rasband), Agnes (Mrs. Wallace B. Parkinson), Mary (Mrs. Kenneth H. Nelson), Della (Mrs. Clarence Ostlund), and Richard J., the only boy in the family, who married Arvilla Duke; Edna (who married William Carlisle, who died in a mine explosion, and she later was married to Dick Lane).

In 1903, Jim bought a ranch in Magrath, Canada, but the family only lived there a short time and returned to Utah on account of his wife having a very serious case of mastoid trouble. He sold his property in Canada and again made a home at Center.

Jim left his home to fill an LDS mission in the Northwestern States in July, 1906. Lizzie was left to care for five children, and John Allen, his brother, took over the care of his sheep. He returned in August, 1908.

In 1909 the family moved to Heber and bought a home one block east of the bank, where Bertha (Mrs. Adolph M. Nielsen) and Merle (Mrs. S. Lawrence Moss) were born. Then, in 1916, they bought the home of Dr. Ray Hatch, two blocks east of the Exchange, where they were living when they died. In this house, LaRae (Mrs. Wilson Lenzi) and Vilate (Mrs. Russell Wall) were born.

Jim served as a member of the City Council and as a counselor in Heber First Ward bishopric and was a ward teacher.

Lizzie worked as an officer of the MIA about 20 years, a Relief Society teacher, working on the Sunshine Committee, and an officer in the Red Cross.

Jim died from a sudden heart attack at Currant Creek, Utah, on October 15, 1932.

Lizzie died after many months of illness at her home in Heber on June 11, 1945.

Sarah Nettie Clift was born in Genoa, Nevada, Oct. 11, 1856, where her father with others was called to colonize that part of state, she was 10 months old before her father, who was called into Johnston's army to help quiet the Indians, ever saw her.

They returned to Utah and settled in Mill Creek until Nettie was eight years old. They then moved to Wanship, Summit County, Utah. While there Nettie saw the first train that came to Echo, Utah. She also saw "Black Hawk" sitting in a circle of prominent men in their home, all smoking the "pipe of peace" while signing agreements or documents.

Three of her children were born in Midway. She was a counselor in Relief Society, also President of YWMIA in Daniel.

John built the first and only home in which he and Mary Ann resided. He also worked in the mines at Keetley, Utah.

John C. Cummings died 13 November 1898, in Heber, Utah, at the age of 30 years, from pneumonia.

Also in her early youth she was very active in Church activities, holding many positions of merit. She was in the presidency of the Heber East Ward Relief Society, and the presidency of the Young Ladies' Mutual of the Heber West Ward.

During her young womanhood Mary Ann was active in dramatics, taking the leading female role in many plays in Heber.

At the age of 28 years Mary Ann was widowed, and had two small children to provide for, the youngest being only six weeks old.

After being widowed, Mary Ann would go out and help the doctors in Heber, acting as their nurse and also cleaning the houses, and caring for the husbands and other children. For this work she received $1 per day.

Mary Ann was always faithful to her Church duties and has spent her life being active and interested in all connected with the gospel.
